TROUBLE IN NEW YORK IS OVER

Chicago, Milwaukee And Other Western Cities On The Market Goes Up.

New York, Oct. 30.—The banking conditions approached the normal in this city today. The situation is now so well in hand that no further conferences of the bankers are anticipated.

Quiet In Chicago
Chicago, Oct. 30.—The local financial situation today showed improvement over yesterday, and matters are moving along smoothly in all directions. The savings banks reported the withdrawal notices have practically ceased. All uneasiness among the depositors has been allayed.

At Superior
Superior, Wis., Oct. 30.—The monetary situation does not at the present time appear to be a disturbing factor in the business of the city and merchants are taking an easy view of the conditions. There is nevertheless an undercurrent of feeling that if the action of the banks in shutting off the flow of currency continues for any length of time that it may seriously affect trade and businesses are therefore anxious that normal conditions should be resumed at the earliest possible moment.

Advise Patience
The Commercial club here while advising that the banks be shelled in every possible manner is doing its utmost to relieve the tension and it is understood have made representations that may be acted upon.

Some Talk
There was some talk among those who carry heavy balances of trading the legality of the banks in the attitude they have adopted toward current accounts subject to check and it is possible that if the present conditions continue for any length of time that these parties will ask for a receiver for the banks holding back their money. One of the largest depositors in this city declared yesterday afternoon that he would not wait longer than a week.

In Milwaukee
Milwaukee, Wis., Oct. 30.—The Milwaukee Clearing house this afternoon issued an order that the banks will be permitted to issue cash for all checks made payable. Otherwise the banking situation remains the same as yesterday. There is no excitement and no further trouble is anticipated.

Minor Run
Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 30.—A run was started shortly before noon on the All Nations bank, a small concern. The depositors are mostly foreigners.

A meeting has been called this week and the opponents of the organization claim that they have been served with notice that unless they join they will be boycotted to extent of including farm, etc., now supplying milk to them, to cease and if this is intended they declare they will ask the courts for protection. The organization was planned three months ago but has never been attempted because of the opposition.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30.—Three decisions were handed down by the State Railway Commission today, one of which may have a greater effect in reducing the rates on coal throughout the state than is now surmised. Complaint was made by J. A. Schwartz of Troy Center, against the C. M. & St. P. road on the rate of coal from Milwaukee to that place. The commission ordered the rate reduced to 75 cents. It is expected that this ruling will ultimately result in the reduction of rates on coal over the state. Another decree was issued against the North-Western on complaint made by the people of Burlington, Iowa county. The railway company was ordered to put in a subway in place of a dangerous crossing in that place. The third order was issued against the C. M. & St. P. road compelling them to place a new sidetrack in Newry, Vernon county, and also to build a new depot at that station. The latter request was not made by the people of Newry who made a complaint for the siding.

HISTORY OF PAST WALL STREET PANICS GIVEN

Panics Of 1903, 1901, And 1873 Were Caused By Reports Of Firms Failing.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Oct. 30.—Now that they have had time to catch their breath Wall street men are figuring why it was that last week's collapse in the stock market was accompanied by so few failures. That the collapse did not result in a panic, with the consequent failure of many stock brokerage houses, may doubtless be attributed to one cause, namely, that the public was not in the market.

To go no further back than 1903 it is found that declines much less severe than those of last week brought disaster to a number of stock exchange houses. In July of that year a sharp decline of prices on the 21st of the month, following a long period of liquidation, forced the suspension of two stock exchange houses, and these were followed three days later by another. The failure of Tabor J. Taylor & Co., one of the three, was connected with the losses incidental to the disastrous end of the Keene pool in Southern Pacific, and too large interest in more or less unmarked securities was assigned as the reason for the suspension of W. L. Stow & Co. and E. S. Hooley & Co., the two other firms.

The panic of May 9, 1901, finds its adequate explanation in the Northern Pacific corner resulting from the fight between the Hill and Harriman forces for the control of that property, and in the necessity of selling other securities to meet the situation developed by the corner in Northern Pacific. Losses in that stock were made good by sales of other securities, and it was all done so precipitously and with such dread of the result of the struggle over Northern Pacific that values crumbled away.

The extreme weakness of the market in November, 1890, was attributable to several unfavorable developments, not the least of which was the news of the falling failure, which became known on the 15th of that month. During the same month a number of failures occurred here, although the declines were not as severe as those which have taken place in recent weeks. It was in November, 1890, that Decker, Howell & Co. failed and several less important failures occurred in the same month. September, 1873, is remembered as one of the most disastrous months in the history of the stock exchange. It was on the 20th of that month that conditions became so bad that the authorities of the stock exchange closed the institution for ten days. On the same day trading on the stock exchange was suspended at the height of the panic, but not before a score or more of houses had gone to the wall.

STATE BANK COMMISSIONER BERGH SAYS STATE IS SAFE

Deposits Have Increased A Million A Month
In Past Half Year--Financial Situation In State Is Good.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 30.—While M. C. Bergh, Wisconsin commissioner of banking, under whose department are all the state and savings banks of the state, is keeping a watchful eye on the financial situation with respect to the possibility of Wisconsin financial institutions becoming embarrassed, he entertains no fears lest trouble in the money market will seriously affect this state. The reports of all the banks under his supervision show that deposits in the state banks of Wisconsin increased at the rate of about a million dollars a month during the last six months. From May 29 to August 22, the dates of the last two reports received by the commissioner from the Wisconsin banks, deposits increased more than three million dollars. The bankers were able to loan this increase out at interest, which fact showed in the last report as an increase of loans and discounts of $2,319,391.08. The supply of gold coin and national currency fell off about $170,000 in the period between the two last reports, which is only about three per cent of the volume of currency in the Wisconsin state banks. In view of the beginning of the crop moving period and withdrawals of money in preparation for this movement, this slight decrease in the volume of currency in the banks is considered as a most wholesome element of the Wisconsin financial situation. In November another report will be laid from those banks, which normally should show less cash on hand in the banks, but the situation is not viewed by the commissioner as portending any apprehension on the part of depositors, for the condition of the state banks of Wisconsin is excellent.

He left his wagon and team at a local hotel and stated that he was going to Michigan and did not know whether he would return or not. Nothing was heard of him until yesterday when he drove back to the farm. It is said that he had a quarrel with his father-in-law.

The communication was addressed from the headquarters in St. Paul and the men are jubilant at the prospect of going to work under conditions by them prescribed.

A CHECK SYSTEM
IS IN OPERATION

REFUSAL OF BANKS TO ISSUE
CASH BEGAN TODAY.

FEW ARE INCONVENIENCED

System of Giving Out Cashless Checks
In Place of Coin Agreeable to One Hundred Merchants.

Janesville is today on a checkless system. The plan of issuing cashless checks by the four local banks in exchange for currency is going along nicely.
There is no excitement and the depositors appear to have the utmost confidence in the banks and their hands.

Was Necessary.
The action of the banks in shutting down on issuing currency in exchange for drafts and checks was made necessary by the Chicago banks which are working upon the same system. At the present time all of the Janesville banks have large deposits in these banks and the refusal to send money out of Chicago by these banks led to the stop taking yesterday by the local bankers after a long conference.

Fall in Line.

The Janesville banks have merely fallen in line with other banks. They are doing the same today that the Chicago, Milwaukee, Rockford and banks in other large cities adjacent are doing, issuing cashless checks instead of currency. They have plenty of reserve in the Chicago institutions but the latter do not wish to let it out at present although they stand ready to honour their correspondents' checks and drafts to any amount of their deposits or even higher.

Cashless Checks.
The cashless check therefore is used instead of currency except in cases of absolute necessity. The arrangement, it was said at the banks today, will not probably be necessary longer than the present week for as soon as the Chicago banks make the change
the local banks can return to cash payments. In fact, each of the four banks has large amounts of currency on hand at present, more than enough for the usual needs and can handle any amount of business.

Generally Accepted.
At all four of the banks this morning
the cashless were telling depositors not to deposit cash unless they desired as it might be a good thing to keep it in circulation. Several large deposits however were made by local merchants who will use the cashless check for purpose of change and also accept them in payment of purchases.
Bank officials said that while the explanation of the use of the cashless checks was frequently requested no complaints had been made as to the order agreed upon.

Safety Deposits.
In two banks several large deposits were made in the savings department and accepted by the banks. On the street in general the merchants have shown a written notification to the public which will be found in another column stating they will accept the cashless checks as cash and no trouble is anticipated on this score.

The Motor Horn.
In Holland the horn as a warning signal is reserved exclusively for the use of motorists.

A Novel Hatpin Holder.
To make a pretty hatpin cushion take an old coffee tin, remove lid and stuff tightly with wool or rags. Then cut out two rounds of pretty colored sateen (lined) for top and bottom of the tin. Place the sateen in position and tack with long stitches down the rim from one to the other. After this put a piece of the material neatly round and make pretty muslin or lace cover in a similar way, with the addition of frills to go over top and bottom of sateen. The round with ribbon, top and bottom.

Double Sash Ribbon.
A yard of sash ribbon of handsome quality may be quickly converted into a party or corsage bag. Heavy black sash ribbon broadened in white or blue flowers in width about two inches makes the neatest kind of a spectacle case, while a wider ribbon in fancy colors will form an oblong fann bag equally acceptable to a younger friend.

Needlecase.
A convenient needlecase is made of brass or tin, bound with silk ribbon, and contains needles of every description, but both are important, both essential.
Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

work while you sleep. It soothes sore and inflamed mucous surfaces, heals local weaknesses and discharges, while the former, once inserted,
restores, gives renewed vigor and ambition,
builds up wasted tissue, bringing about renewed strength, vigor, and energy. Take Dr. Shoop's Remedies. Give them a trial. Use them constantly to the system. For positive local help, use as told

Weak Women

To weak and ailing women, there is at least one way to help. This with that way, two treatments must be combined. One is local, one is constitutional, but both are important, both essential.
Dr. Shoop's Night Cure is the local.

WOULD LICENSE THEM—Mayor
Hoffman refuses to express himself on the subject of a same Halloween and intimates that it is the chief executive of Oakshold who received a delegation of young women bearing a petition for the privilege of donning men's garments on the "spooky" night in question.
"Would you grant such a request in case it was made?" was asked of him.
"That would depend on the reason they advanced for desiring to make the changes."
"Well, supposing they just wanted to have an innocent little lark?"
"I'd want to license them in that case."

When Wilmer Evans Coffman, former Methodist pastor at Darlen, started to preach before the congregation of his old charge a few Sundays ago he was obliged to take an alarm clock with him into the pulpit, his watch having turned up missing at the last moment. He set the timepiece for half-past eight with the calculation that it would not go off until his audience should have been dismissed. Just as he paused to remind his hearers that he would keep within the time limit and would not detain them more longer, the enterprising young man proceeded to chime fully fifteen minutes ahead of time. The preacher was at first much disconcerted and amused but in an instant recovered his composure sufficiently to say: "The ring's against me and I'll have to quit," or something to that effect.

Ex-Alderman Eugene Fish, who recently visited in Racine, was much impressed by a unique institution which has recently been established there that commonly known. It is nothing less than a "free doctor" who has full jurisdiction over all the shade dispersed by the city by the lake. In his own province, ordering this ancient chin pruned, and you lawyer chopped down, as the needs of the community demand. Electric lights of street intersections are not observed by the thick foliage which is allowed to "run riot" in Janesville and there are many other things to be said in favor of the free-tree expert. Racine invented the idea but it is not patented. Why not take it over? Ex-Alderman Brockhaus, perhaps, would be willing to resume the burden of state long enough to design a uniform.

"Oh, cuss the rummage sale!" said a well-known Janesville resident as he learned in response to inquiry inquiries that the sale had been want to use white toilet paper from the "census." That was not his specific remark, but what he really said that and afterwards, when he was buying a new garment to take the place of the old one, would not look well in print.

..Forty Years Ago..

Janesville Daily Gazette, Wednesday, Oct. 30, 1867.—Snow.—There was a light snow at this place yesterday but north of us we judge there must have been quite a fall of snow as we observe that the lumber brought down from the north on the cars was well whitened with snow.

Thanks.—L. D. Mills, of Evansville, Ind., has been up the falls of the river, holding forth in that village but we must decline publishing it on the ground that such talk is too flat, stale and unprofitable to be printed in any respectable newspaper. Friend Mills "chances" them up quite late but to give them any sort of publication is not worth the powder.

Lecture.—General Carl Schurz at Reed's hall Thursday night. Commercial.—Reported for the Janesville Gazette by Gray & Bump, grain and produce dealers, Receipts of wheat were better today than for several days past and prices under a brisk milling and shipping demand ruled firm and higher. About 1,500 bushels sold from $1.80 to $1.88 for milling samples, and $1.60 to $1.80 closing with a good demand at those figures. Rye is in active request and a shade higher with sales at $1.15 to $1.20, and in some cases $1.25 was paid. Old corn is in good demand and we note an improvement in prices from three to five cents a bushel with sales at 95 cents to $1 per bushel. New ear corn is selling at 50 to 55 cents per 55 pounds. Barley is quiet at 50 cents to $1.05 per 50 pounds for fair to choice quality. Oats are in active demand from 48 cents to 50. Receipts fair.

Coming Attractions.

EMMA CARUS WITH "FORTY-FIVE MINUTES FROM BROADWAY"

At the Myers Theatre, Thursday, Oct. 31, Messrs. Klaw & Erlanger will present Emma Carus and the original company and production in George M. Cohan's most popular musical play, "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway." Exceedingly bright comedy, some deft touches of pathos, lively music and pretty girls will be found in "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway." "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" is a departure from the field occupied by both Mr. Cohan and Miss Carus. Mr. Cohan has given more strictly dramatic work to this play than anything he has before written, and Miss Carus has found new and rich opportunities for her versatile and abundantly expressive art in the part of the New England domestic, Mary Jane Jenkins, known as "Plain Mary." Another great success in the piece is made by Scott Welch in the original character of "Kid Burns," a retired prizefighter with a vocabulary of uncommonly rich slang. Among the notable song hits in "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway" are "Mary Is a Grand Old Name" and "So Long a Mary," sung by Miss Carus, and "Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," sung by Scott Welch and chorus.

"The Flower of the Ranch" The average theatregoer has little idea of the tremendous amount of energy that is expended in the production of a big musical play, like the Klaw-Erlanger presentation of Joseph P. Howard's latest success, "The Flower of the Ranch," which will be seen at the Myers theatre under the auspices of the Elks, Saturday, in the first place, the matter of proper costumes is a tremendous item. For the chorus alone, there are more than one hundred dresses, all about $100 apiece. The production took five weeks to build and paint. The company spent six weeks in rehearsals. Joseph P. Howard, the author and composer, took one year to write the play and the music, so that a satisfactory play that runs for the amusement of theatregoers about two and a half hours.

Educated For Efficiency.

Marionette Klaw-Erlanger said, "What strikes me most is that your work-shops are filled with college bred men."

BLOODY TRAGEDY IN TULSA.

B. H. Stockwell Slays His Son, W. E. Campbell and Himself.

Tulsa, I. T., Oct. 30.—B. H. Stockwell, of this city, Tuesday night shot and instantly killed W. E. Campbell, a prominent oil man and capitalist, formerly of Winfield, Kan., and then murdered his own son, aged 13, and committed suicide. Insane jealousy is given as the cause. The heads of all three were blown off. Stockwell and Campbell were related by marriage, Campbell's son having married a daughter of Stockwell. Some days ago Stockwell and his wife had trouble and as a result Mrs. Stockwell went to the home of Campbell to remain until she departed for California. Tuesday night Stockwell called to the home of Campbell and calling him to the porch, stuck a double-barreled shotgun in Campbell's face and fired, blowing his head off. He then went to the Stockwell home and, going to the room of his son, who was sick in bed, shot and instantly killed the boy. Stockwell then turned the gun on himself and, for the third time, blew off a head.

J. Edward Brady Found. Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.—J. Edward Brady, president of the Merchants' Refrigerating company, which was placed in charge of a receiver following his mysterious disappearance last Friday, was found here Tuesday night by a newspaper reporter. He made a general statement, the burden of which was that he had been in hiding in order that he might be able to make arrangements to straighten out his affairs.

Col. L. H. Walker, U. S. A., Is Dead. Boston, Oct. 30.—Col. Leoyett Hall Walker, U. S. A., in command of the defenses of Boston harbor, died Tuesday at Fort Banks, Winthrop, Col. Walker was born in Pennsylvania in 1851, and upon his graduation from West Point in 1871 was assigned to the Fifteenth Infantry. He was promoted to colonel in 1907.

Miser Dies of Starvation. St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 30.—A special from Jamestown, N. D., says that starvation, exposure and exhaustion caused the death of John Mooney, a wealthy land owner of Stutsman county. In his clothing, when he was found dead on the side of an unfrequented road, was $15,000 in certificates of bank deposits.

Club Manager Is Murdered. Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 30.—Car Bundschu, aged 46, manager of the Elks club, was shot and killed by Noble Westmoreland, a porter at the club, Tuesday afternoon.

A Terrible Suggestion. "Have you any confidence in the theory that people think with their feet?" asked one scientist. "None whatever," answered the other. "In this era of two-steps and ragtime the feet would be horrible!" —Washington Star.

ABSOLUTELY SAFE

Depositors of Janesville banks are now absolutely safeguarded against any panicky feeling that may exist in the country at large.

The action of the four banks in notifying their depositors that they would issue cashier's checks in lieu of money has created no confusion or any annoyance to either the businessmen or the depositors.

There is no excitement at any of the banks; their business continues the same as usual and no one need become excited.

There is plenty of money in the banks' vaults and every bank is protected by a large deposit in substantial Chicago banks.

The bankers of New York, Chicago, Milwaukee and other large cities said in substance, every bank is on a sound basis, and the bank reserves never so large as now.

Nevertheless, if depositors get foolishly frightened, and draw their money out of the banks, and put it out of circulation business will be badly crippled and bad results will follow.

Therefore, every depositor desiring money for necessary use, rather than to put it in a stocking, will be given the banks' checks which for all business purposes are just as good as the currency.

Then in a few days when the excitement passes the money will all be here for use, and there will be no stringency, or crippling of business.

The scheme is a masterly one. It infuses no depositor, great or small, and makes sure the passing of the financial excitement in a few days, and a continuance of the prosperity of the country.

NORMAL CONDITIONS

Dispatches this morning from New York state that the banking conditions in that city are today again normal.

Not only that, but the banks which were forced to close their doors last week will resume business on Monday.

A panic has been averted. A good, thorough cleansing of the banks of their speculative heads has been accomplished and a greater task than that of Hercules cleaning the Augean stables finished.

In a few days the stringency of the money market will return to normal conditions and the present troubles will be forgotten.

LOCAL PRIDE

Janesville shows a spirit of local pride that is something to be commended.

Its residents are not of the kind to be swept away by vague report and its banks and business institutions such that no fear is expressed as to their stability.

Janesville is on a firm financial foundation and while New York and other cities may feel the effects of the manipulations of the Wall street coterie of stock gamblers Janesville and the west are not affected.

Local pride in home institutions is too strong for this.

There is no question in the minds of Janesville people as to the stability of the local banks and as soon as they get used to carrying around a check-book to pay their bills with they will laugh to think of the time they used gold and silver to pay up purchases with.

Other packers differ with the Omaha packer who lowered the price of his product so that the common people could buy food. They say that meat is to go up instead of down.

Well, it will go down if the consumer purchases it, won't it?

Athletes are still a feature of college life despite the fact the faculties of several institutions have tried to make Ping Pong the college game.

Football is King still and can not be deposed by the anti-athletic members of the faculty of any institution of learning.

No one knows just what Rockefeller thought when he turned his millions into the maw of the Wall street tiger to be devoured at six per cent, but everyone is certain that old Russell Sage would have grinned with joy as he dived into his stock for his board if he had been alive. However, it is safe to say that John's Toque was slightly damaged after he made the offer.

New Orleans has not come to the front lately with any yellow fever or murder stories. The correspondents must be too busy to write up these interesting details of southern life.

Very shortly cars are to be transported to Cuba on the decks of large ocean liners and unloaded at their destination in the Cuban republic. It will not be so very long before the same feat is done for Atlantic travel.

When the canal is built around the dunes of the Rock river and boats can go from Janesville to New Orleans the steamboat whistle will not seem strange, but, oh, so good.

Baseball magnates are in session in New York discussing means and methods of divorcing the general public from their bank rolls again next summer.

Chicago sports are sore. They claim that the city has become a Sunday School town. The ministers and reformers are sore and say Chicago is still a very wicked city.

Reports are that cannibals, horror of the missionaries, have devoured a crew of sixty-five sailors, who were unfortunate enough to be cast ashore while rounding Cape Horn.

The Japanese war cloud appears to have been pocketed by Secretary Taft. Taft is a great man and has a pocket big enough to pocket almost anything.

Chicago is still the center of activity in the wheat and corn markets. The prices of the great wheat pit of the Windy city decide quotations the country over.

Ducks at Koshkonong are a thing of the past. Three days and not a sight of anything but a lame and hen is not what it used to be in days of yore.

Madison really thinks that it is the political center of the state and Milwaukee is jealous. The Cream City always did have a hankering after the flesh pots of Egypt.

Uncle Samuel means business when he starts out. It takes him a long time to start, but he will get that twenty-nine millions from the Standard Oil before he quits.

It is a poor example of sportsmanship to cry wolf when a team is beaten by an opponent and a poorer spirit yet to desert the losing team.

Rockford has the same system as Janesville as to its banks and likes it. This is the second day they have been using it.

The great Atlantic fleet is to sail into the Pacific soon. Then it will be the Atlantic-Pacific peace squadron.

The Line City has not had a sensation for a week past. What is the matter down there?

Mr. Harriman shows clearly that he owns the Union Pacific.

Begrudges Any Praise. Milwaukee Free Press: If the Rockefellerers and the J. Pierpont Morgans saved the nation on Wednesday, as Mr. Charles Drexler says they did at the conference of trusts and corporations in Chicago, they were merely looking out for their own, and deserve no special praise. Let's say; there are something like 100 of those big fellows who control nine-tenths of the property in the United States, we've recited the figures.

"Hats Off to the Master!" La Crosse Chronicle: Mr. Morgan stepped to the front and controlled a situation that probably no other man in America could have controlled, and the business interests of the country owe him a debt of real gratitude for his splendid service.

It is not surprising that on Friday afternoon when the crisis had been safely passed, there was a demonstration in Mr. Morgan's honor when he left his office for his home, or that scores of the highest business men in New York stood in line, with heads bowed, while the veteran financier passed from the door of his office to the conveyance. "Hats off to Mr. Morgan, gentlemen," was a command that was obeyed with grateful alacrity.

Atmospheric Luncheon. Milwaukee Sentinel: From the city of New York comes interesting news concerning what is known as the "atmospheric luncheon," which, it appears, has resulted from the efforts of untiring theatrical managers to outstrip their productions with what is technically known as "atmospheric." The atmospheric luncheon is not, as the name might imply, a farcical feast, at which the participants endeavor to sustain life on a menu of hot air, but is a luncheon at which the most choice and table necessities are so planned as to put the guests in a receptive frame of mind for the dramatic performance which follows.

For instance, recently, we are told, a society woman invited a party of feminine friends to a matinee performance of a Spanish drama. The tables were decorated in the Spanish colors, models of old missions formed the center pieces, and the menu was made up of chile con carne, and other appropriate dishes. So thoroughly was the atmosphere of old Spain created that one of the fair guests was heard to say "Carabao," which, without knowing what it meant, and the subsequent nothing was enjoyed by them much more than if they had hastened thereto from a plain United States luncheon.

A New Crop in Wisconsin. Evening Wisconsin: The Marshfield News records the success of George H. Reynolds of Wood county in producing probably the first crop of peppermint ever grown for commerce on a Wisconsin farm.

The runners were obtained from the government Department of Agriculture and from peppermint growers in Indiana. The ground in which they were set was low-lying marsh land, and the tract planted was less than an acre in extent. The initial outlay was considerable, the seed and equipment of a distillery being necessary. The process of distillation is effected by forcing dry steam through the bottom of a large vat containing the plants, and like hay, in the passage of the steam through the vat the oil is extracted from the plants and carried in a coil above on which cold water is constantly flowing. In this coil the steam and oil are condensed, the oil being separated from the water of the condensed steam in another apparatus.

The reward of Mr. Reynolds' first year's experience is several gallons of pure peppermint oil which he has placed on sale in drug stores. Its value is far from sufficient to pay him for his investment of time and money, but he succeeded in convincing him that he will succeed if he keeps on. The first year's yield of plants is light, but the second year a close mat of roots is formed, which strengthens for a period of four years and then lessens for two years, the plants needing renewal every seven years. It is Mr. Reynolds' intention, the News says, to increase his area under cultivation from year to year until it comprises 30 acres or more, as the market for peppermint oil is a permanent one, and suffers no fluctuations.

Sailing Days Not Over. Just at a time when everyone who is at all interested in the sea and ships is talking over the Lusitania, her size and her record, it seems a curious reminder of old times to catch sight of a new gold sign in the windows of a skyscraper down at Bowling Green which announces a "sailing service to Australia and New Zealand."

A Singular Clock. A very singular clock has been made by an ingenious Swiss workman. It consists of a dozen leaves hinged like an ordinary fan. The number of the hour is marked from one to 12 at the end of each of these leaves. The fan thus placed starts at six o'clock and expands regularly for 12 hours, when it suddenly closes up and starts all over again. The half-hour is indicated by the leaf of the fan being only half extended.—Montreal Standard.

AGAINST WOMAN SUFFRAGE.

Universalist Convention Goes on Record—Officers Are Chosen.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—The biennial convention of the Universalist church in business session here Tuesday placed itself on record as against the enfranchisement of women and declared for a uniform divorce law. It also declared for reformatory punishment of prisoners instead of capital punishment.

Detroit was chosen as the next place for holding the convention in 1909. The following officers were elected: President, Charles Hutchinson, Illinois; vice president, George H. Wells, Philadelphia; treasurer, Eugene F. Endicott, Massachusetts; secretary, Rev. Isaac N. Atwood, New York.

Automatic Needle Man Arrested.

New York, Oct. 30.—James E. Lytle, the alleged promoter of now defunct Automatic Needle company, of this city and the Self-Threading Needle company of Minneapolis, was arrested here Tuesday, charged with grand larceny in connection with sales of the stocks of these companies. He was held in $15,000 bail for examination. The complainant is S. S. Smart, a wire fence manufacturer of Bayonne, N. J.

Hourglasses for Pulpits.

The 20-minute sermon is a purely modern invention, as is proved by the number of pulpit hourglasses that are still to be found in many old churches. In the register of St. Catherine's, Abingdon, the following entry, dated 1564, occurs: "Paid for an hourglass that hanged by the pulpit, where the preacher doth make a sermon, that he may know how the hour passeth away, one shilling." A modern pulpit glass—probably the only one of its kind—is to be found in the Chapel Royal, Savoy. It is an 18-minute glass, and was placed in the chapel on its restoration in 1667.—Westminster Gazette.

Remember the Pioneers.

It may be that some of the younger generation are inclined to forget the debt they owe to the pioneers, and even to scoff at their influence and ideals. It is true it is unfortunate, and there is all the more reason for the perpetuation of pioneer associations and the wielding of pioneer influence. To belong to such an organization is to be inscribed on a roll of honor. In this new country it is almost a title of nobility. The sons and grandsons of these sturdy men and women should cherish their history and traditions and preserve them from oblivion.

Origan's New Means of Extortion.

Even extortion has been made to subvert the purposes of the brand in a manner in which those interested ought to take note. At Strasburg, there is a crematorium with a depostory for an attached. From this place there disappeared some days ago the urn containing the ashes of two members of a wealthy family named Berlin. The police have been quite unable to obtain any clue but the family were called up by telephone the other evening and notified that the restoration of the urn would cost them $5,000.—London Globe.

PASSING THE BALL.

Coach Cochems Gives Expert Advice on Important Subject.

HOW TO GRASP FOOTBALL.

The Basket Ball Pass is Frequently Used—The End Over End and Spiral Passes—The Valuable Overhand Spiral in Detail.

By EDWARD B. COCHEMS, Left halfback University of Wisconsin, 1907; director of athletics St. Louis university.

There are various ways in which a football can be passed and kicked. Each method depends on its value for the play in which it figures, the player who makes it, the position of the field in which it takes place, the opponents' defense, the weather conditions, etc. The basket ball pass is used considerably in the east. The player holds the ball above his head with both hands in the act of delivery, the same as though he was throwing a basket ball. This method does not depend upon the shape of the ball, is accurate and fairly safe, but good only for short distances.

Then there is the end over end pass. The fingers lap considerably over the end of the ball in order to secure a firm grasp. The longitudinal or longitudinal axis is parallel with the line and radius of the forearm. The ball rests against the arm during the act of delivery only and when delivered flies end over end in the same position. It can be thrown with a side or underhand throw. This style is good for a short or long pass, passes of thirty-five yards or more, flight distance being possible. It is good in rainy weather, since the ball is not so apt to slip with the fingers over the end. For all around uses it in the safest. Moreover, any player can learn to make it for reasonable distances.

ONE WAY OF EXERCISING THE FORWARD PASS.

[This shows a correct way to make a short forward pass. The throw is sure, more accurate and less apt to be blocked when two hands are used.]

Besides these two methods, we have what I might term a broadside pass. The finger tips just overlap the lacing, which affords a firm hold. The ball can be thrown many yards, either with a side or overhead delivery, as contingencies necessitate.

Now we come to the forward pass spiral. The ball is grasped with the fingers just over the lacing, with the lacing facing the ground and one end resting on the wrist. It is an underhand throw similar to that used in throwing the discus. It is good for short passes, but it is easily blocked.

The overhand spiral is the name of passing methods. Its perfect execution requires constant drill and a hand large enough to encircle the ball near the lacing. Passes of this sort go long distances. The thumb or fingers come in contact with the lacing, causing the friction which results in the spiral motion of the ball, which flies with its long axis horizontally. With this style the ball can be hurled like a projectile from fifty to sixty yards. Of the various methods demonstrated this is the only one which cannot be performed by every player. All the others can be accomplished by faithful endeavor. From practical experience and mathematical investigation I find that scarcely four out of twenty players can ever hope to successfully accomplish this pass. In some squads no one will be found capable.

A player must have a girth measurement of nearly nine inches from thumb to second finger, measured from the tip of the thumb to the tip of the second finger, tape following the contour of the hand.

Most players have a measurement of from seven and a half to eight and a half inches. Moreover, the fingers and thumb must be powerful. If one should measure a bowling ball from thumb to finger hole or encircle an ordinary baseball he would get a complete idea.

A strong bowler with necessary girth or a baseball pitcher should make a good forward passer.

He seldom finds out. Many a man with foolish prejudices wonders why he isn't praised for having strong convictions.

WATER FROM SAND DUNES.

Source of Part of the Netherlands' Drinking Supply.

The supply of water for Amsterdam and The Hague is collected from sand dunes bordering on the sea. In the dunes near Harlem, where they have a width of nearly two and a half miles, the summits are 20 to 23 feet above the sea level. The quantity of rain water percolating to the ground-water streams is estimated at 1.19 inches per annum. From Amsterdam the water is collected in open canals, which are never excavated below sea level. For The Hague it is collected in stoneware pipes in a bed of shells laid at a depth of 13 feet below sea level. Harlem is beginning to build wells 50 to 60 feet below sea level to collect water. As fresh water is found at such depth under the dunes, while the water at the same depth in the immediate neighborhood is salt, it is thought that the hydraulic pressure of the dune water prevents sea impregnation. The water contains much iron in solution and for this reason, as well as for other reasons, is filtered at the three places mentioned before being pumped into the mains. When the water is collected in wells or pipes it must be aerated before being filtered.

DUCKS ON A SPREE.

Trick of Young Girl Yields Good Financial Returns.

The 15-year-old daughter of a farmer living on the shores of Chesapeake bay, where wild ducks are found in greater numbers than anywhere else in the United States, has proved herself a better hunter than any of the men who make a living by it. She noticed that at one spot hundreds of ducks came ashore to eat the sorrel plant. She got a peck of corn, soaked it for two days in whiskey, and then at night scattered it on the ground. Her father laughed at the idea, but he laughed too soon. The next morning a large number of the ducks came ashore for the sorrel, but took the corn instead. The result was that over 50 of them were made so drunk that they were easily captured on the shore or by a boat, and the girl made over $25 at one haul. Perhaps ducks shouldn't be tempted to become drunkards, but it is certainly an easy and profitable way to gather them in for the market. The wonder is if the people who eat them will also become hilarious?

It was Mr. Hobart's first experience with waffles and he liked the taste of them. When he had been served twice he called the waiter to him and spoke confidentially.
